Nº 912.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from Holland.

Warsaw, May 6. O. S.

HEY write from the Frontiers, that they have Advice that 15,000 of the Turks Van Guard are actually arrived near Oczakow, with a Design, as they say, to besiege it.

Vienna, May 10. 'Tis confirm'd that there has been a sharp Rencontre between the Imperial and Turkish Troops on the Frontiers of Temiswarer. It happened on the 1st Instant, on the North Side of the Danube between Meadia and Old Orsova. The Imperialists being posted there with 3 Battalions and 400 Horse, to support Orsova, a Place of the greater Importance, not only for a Magazine's being erected there, but because it cover'd the Isle of Pega; the Enemy came early in the Morning, and after harrassing our Troops with small Detachments till two in the Afternoon, they then approach'd with at least 8000 Men, and attack'd the most advanc'd Posts with such a furious Fire, that the Imperialists, after having defended themselves with great Bravery till 6 o'Clock at Night, were oblig'd to retire, which they did in good Order. Their Commander Major General Count de Miseroni was killed in the Action, after having had 6 Wounds; and 'tis computed that we lost near 400 Soldiers; but the Loss of the Infidels amounts to above 2000.

Stockholm, May 9. The Ratification of his Swedish Majesty's Treaty of Commerce with the Porte is just arrived. 'Tis agreed by one of the Articles, that for discharging the Debts contracted by the late King Charles XII. while he was in Turkey, the King shall send the Grand Signior a Man of War quite New, with the Sails, Cordage and Rigging, and 72 Guns, besides 30,000 Muskets and Bayonets, and other Arms. The Court has also concluded a Treaty with the Algerines, for the Advantage and Security of the Swedish Navigation in the Mediterranean. By Virtue of this Treaty, the King is to send a considerable Present to the Regency of Algier, consisting of Artillery, Arms and Ammunition. The Ratification of the Cartel lately concluded with Denmark, is lately sent by an Express to Copenhagen, by which it is stipulated, that all Deserters, Malefactors, and fraudulent Bankrupts of either Nation that retire to the other, shall be deliver'd up.

SCOTLAND.

Edinburgh, May, 16. Yesterday Forenoon the Assembly met, and the Moderator of the Committee for Bills reported, that at their Meeting on Saturday, agreeable to the Order of the House, they had considered and transmitted a Representation, and separate Paper relating thereto, offer'd from the Synod of Perth and Stirling, concerning the Conduct of the four seceding Brethren, in which is set forth. 1. The bad Use they had made of the Assembly's Clemency, by refusing to join with the Judicatories of this Church. 2. Their erecting themselves into a Presbytery, and usurping the Power of Discipline; and in consequence thereof committing many Irregularities, such as Baptizing and Marrying without the Bounds of their own Parishes. 3. That they had appointed general Fasts, and emitted a Declaration, which they call their Testimony as Grounds thereof, containing many bitter Invectives against the Church of Scotland. That there was likewise at the same time some other Papers produced, but that they did not think them so proper for their Inspection. But the Assembly resolving to have all possible Information in so nice an Affair laid before them, ordered these Papers to be sent for; and in the mean time, that there might be no Interruption of Business, heard an Appeal of Mr. Rodger Moodie, Probationer, Presentee to the vacant Parish of Dunse, taken from a Sentence of the Rev. Synod of Merse and Teviotdale, affirming a Sentence of Insufficiency passed by the Presbytery of Dunse, and a conjunct Committee of that Synod, who had found him disqualify'd, and disapproved his first Piece of Trials. Parties were heard at the Bar, and the Reasons of Appeal and Answers read; and being removed, the Assembly went on the Consideration of that Affair. In Favour of the Synod's Sentence it was urged, there could be no Appeal taken in any such Case; the Presbytery are the ultimate Judges of a Candidate's sufficiency; Dunse is an important Charge, and the Presbytery did well to enquire nicely into the Qualifications of the Presentee; for tho' one of the Appellant's Character might be fit for a small Charge, or an obscure Corner, it were unjust on that Account to argue he was qualified for Dunse: Their Conduct has argued a Love to their Country and the Church, and that it would have been a misplaced Tenderness in them to have acted otherwise than they had done, and an Excess of Goodness beyond the Bounds of Virtue. But to this it was oppos'd, that in a Case of this Nature, if a young Man had not Access to apply for Redress, Presbyteries were independent and a dernier Resort; That Mr. Moodie was injur'd, seem'd evident from the Circumstances laid before them, and the Conduct of the Presbytery and the conjunct Meeting; the Presbytery could have no Presumption of his Insufficiency; his first Trials were past in their Bounds with Applause; he had served with Approbation, and when he removed he had ample Certificates; on this Account it looks as if they designed to proceed in an uncommon severe Method, when they desired a Committee of the Synod to join them, and as a Rumour had spread, that they had resolved to cast him for Insufficiency, thousands conven'd, he himself labour'd under an Indisposition, the Number of his Examinators were doubled, and in such a Case, when the apparatus was so dreadful, it was not to be admir'd he answer'd not well, but that he answer'd at all: We have Instances of Men of distinguished Worth, that have been puzzled on less Occasions, yet the World is not so unjust to look upon them as Blockheads; and the Presbytery had in Effect acquit him, for their Sentence should have taken away his Licence, and they were in a Fault for allowing an insufficient Man to preach the Gospel, but as they had not done this, it was to be presumed they were satisfied he did not deserve it. The Reasonings were to this Effect, and the Assembly, after mature Deliberation, resolv'd, That, waving the Question of the Appeal, Mr. Moodie should be remitted back to the Presbytery of Dunse, to be put on Trials anew; that they should give their Questions in Writing, if they disapprov'd of any of his Discourses, he should deliver a Copy thereof, and they express the Reasons of their Disatisfaction in Writing. The Assembly then received a Paper from the Synod of Fife, of the same Import with that from Perth and Stirling, and the Matter being of the utmost Consequence, a Committee of the whole House was appointed to meet at six o'Clock and consider the same.

Agreeable to this Resolution, the Committee of the whole House met, and as the disorderly Practices of the seceding Brethren seem'd to require their utmost Attention, their Reasonings turned on what might be the proper Methods of applying a Remedy to that growing Evil, which in Time might prove fatal to the Church: It was thought by some, That as the Church had a Power of inflicting Censures on the Disorderly and Schismatical, no time could be more proper, or any Men more deserving to feel the Severities of such a Power; it was observ'd they had disregarded all mild Measures, they had usurped Powers independent of all other Judicatories, and extended this over the whole Kingdom; they had no regard to Assemblies, wandered about preaching to a Mob, sowing Sedition, and raising Disturbance in well affected Congregations; and such Practices encouraged a Spirit of Idleness and Disregard to Superiors. The main Design of Society, is to look to the Observation of its Laws by each of its Members; in this its Safety consists, and if this be neglected, these Men might increase, gain over Numbers to their Interests, and in Time be too strong to be dealt with: The civil Power might observe this, and drop the established Church altogether, and therefore it seem'd plain they deserved Censure, and it was the Duty of the House to inflict it, and leave the Event to the Disposal of God. To this it was reply'd, That indeed it must be own'd, these Brethren deserved the highest Censure, none would endeavour to vindicate their Conduct, it was extravagant and wild, and only fit for such Inconsiderates as they seem'd to be; but that was not the Question, if they deserved Censure, but how expedient, in the present Situation of Affair, the inflicting of it was, and it could be no Means be fit, for the End of such a Conduct behov'd to propose to extinguish the Schism, but instead of that, it tended directly to promote and advance it higher; Persecution would encrease their Voraries, it would be a popular Theme, a fine Subject to declaim upon, and besides, the Consequence of deposing them would cast an Odium that might be indelible upon the Church; in the Parishes where they are now placed it is known to a Man they are violently attached to their Interests, and if others were to be settled in their Rooms, 'tis more than probable it could not be done without Blood-shed, the Military would be called in, the Mob would attack them, Lives would be lost, and the Odium of all cast upon the Church: As for them, it was known their Parts were contemptible, their Persons, their Performances and their Politicks were equally so, they could not fail, on that Account, of falling into Contempt; the People would be weary of the same Stuff ever humm'd over, and always repeated, they would tire, and, by Degrees, the Party dwindle to nothing: This was the Case of the Adherers of some odd erroneous Positions in the Marrow of Modern Divinity, the Assembly refused their Profession, they disregarded it, and, by Degrees, the Thing died away, and now is no more heard of. On these Accounts they thought it most proper to use mild Measures, and either pass an express Act, strictly requiring all Ministers to keep within the Bounds of their own Parishes, or publish a reasonable Warning from the Pulpits thro' Scotland against their Divisive Courses. The Committee came to no Resolution, but appointed a Sub-committee of 15 to meet and prepare an Overture relating to that Affair, to be laid before them when the Assembly should allow them another Meeting.

To Persons of either Sex

Afflicted with any Species of the PALSY, or other NERVOUS DECAYS.

NEVER were NERVOUS DISEASES,

PALSIES, and PARALYTICK DISORDERS so frequent as of late they have been, nor have the usual Remedies been found adequate to those pertinacious Distempers: This occasioned a Physician, who employ'd his Thoughts much concerning them, to adapt a Medicine, a Sovereign Elixir, peculiar to, and effectual for, the Palsy, and all other nervous Complaints now reigning, which after he had experienced of vast Numbers of Persons of both Sexes, and always with surprizing Success, even so as infallibly to cure by it the Palsy, and all Paralytick Effects and Nervous Disorders, he permitted it to be made publick for a general Good; that so those labouring under these miserable Afflictions, might know where to meet with a safe and most certain Cure, which it accomplishes in so short a Time, and with such Ease and Pleasure (a few Drops of it being a Dose, highly agreeable to the Palate, and comforting to the Stomach and Bowels) as is almost incredible to relate.

But the taking one Bottle of it only, demonstrates its prodigious Efficacy to every one, and the Patients soon find all Numbness, Deadness, and Shaking, or Resolution of the Nerves, as well as all convulsive, cramp-like, or painful Contractions of them, vanish and return no more; and this, though these Diseases have been of many Years standing, and whether occasioned by long Illness, fast Living, hard Drinking, or any other Cause; for it performs all that can be wish'd for in Nervous Cases, creates an Appetite, expells Wind, rectifies the Digestion, occasions laudable Chyle, attenuates the Blood and Juices, causes a free and regular Circulation of 'em thro' the Capillary Vessels, revives and increases the Spirits, warms, comforts, strengthens, and replenishes the Brain and whole Nervous System, hence the Sinews, Tendons, Ligaments, and all the enfeebled Parts are invigorated, the Limbs restored to their pristine Steadiness and Strength, and the Palsy and all Paralytick Disorders and Nervous Decays suddenly cured by it, to the Admiration of the Patients themselves, and all about them.

This sovereign and incomparable Elixir is permitted to be sold only at Mrs. Holt's, at the Cross-Keys and Star in Cornhill, near Stock's Market, at 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with printed Directions.
